"Writing does not work like a tumble-dryer" supporting doctoral researchers in multilingual environments

May 12th 12.00-13.00

Doctoral researchers in Sweden are expected to produce their results in English. This workshop will consider data about writing research in a second language and offer some practical tips from research and praxis about supporting doctoral researchers.

Virginia Langum & Kirk Sullivan

Associate professor Virginia Langum and professor Kirk Sullivan, Department of Language Studies, Umeå University.

The seminar will be in zoom and the link will be provided after registration.
