Smaller, greener...healthier?

Livestock farming in Europe: what does sustainability look like?

9 September 2020 – 14:00 - 15:30

An online debate moderated by journalist Dave Keating

Among the panel members you will find Martin Scholten. He visited VH together with Fredrick Federley in 2019.

As Europe forms its strategies to deliver on the EU Green Deal's goals of net-zero emissions of greenhouse gases by 2050, restoring biodiversity, and moving to a clean, circular economy, our debate will focus on the future of the livestock sector in Europe and what sustainability measures will entail for animal health and welfare in livestock production.
